TEACHING & RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

- Jul 2023 – THE UNIVERSITY OF QUEENSLAND Brisbane, Australia
- Nov 2026 Assistant Lecturer / (Coordinating) Tutor / Teaching Assistant, School of Social Science
(Casual Academic)
- Course Development: Led the redevelopment of quantitative methods curricula, assessments, and laboratory sessions across undergraduate and postgraduate courses.
    - SOCY3039: Co-authored A Portable Workbook for Data Analysis: R for the Social Sciences, leading the end-to-end development of chapter content, dataset selection and preparation, statistical analyses, R code, student exercises, and assessment redesign.
    - SOCY2339: Led the redevelopment of tutorial materials, including lesson content, applied examples, dataset selection and preparation, statistical analyses, Jamovi workflows, student exercises, and assessment redesign.
  - Teaching Responsibilities: Delivered seminars, lectures, laboratory workshops, tutorials, and discussion sessions. Managed assessment marking, student consultations, and tutorial administration.
  - Courses Taught: Applied Quantitative Research (SOCY3039; 40+ students); Introducing Quantitative Research (SOCY2339, 200+ students); Introduction to Social Research (SOCY2019, 100+ students); and Sex, Gender and Social Relationships (SOCY2050; 50+ students).
- Oct 2026 THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS, ARLINGTON Texas, USA
Invited Guest Lecturer
- Invited to deliver a guest lecture on multilevel modelling to PhD students, covering key concepts, model specification, interpretation, and applied examples.
- Apr 2025 – INSTITUTE FOR SOCIAL SCIENCE RESEARCH, UQ Brisbane, Australia
- Jun 2026 Research Assistant
- Project: Improving understanding and forecasting of internal and international migration.
  - Responsibilities: Contributing to complex statistical modelling, managing large demographic datasets (PLIDA), and developing predictive models for regional and international migration trends.
- Jul 2019 – HANKUK UNIVERSITY OF FOREIGN STUDIES
- Aug 2022 Research Assistant
- Postgraduate Workshop: Designed and facilitated a seminar-style workshop on R and computational text analysis for Master's and PhD students during a winter session.
  - International Development Cooperation Project ($252,458 grant): Analysed quantitative data using ordered logistic regression to evaluate the socioeconomic impacts of community disaster-training programs in Cambodia and Myanmar.

- Arab Spring and Mass Migration Project ($525,650 grant): Served as Assistant Editor for a policy issue series and analysed cross-national qualitative and quantitative text data using Apriori association-rule mining to map media framing of refugee crises.
- AI Diffusion & Disease Detection Systems ($700,000 combined grants): Collaborated with the Department of Statistics on artificial-intelligence research detecting Highly Pathogenic Avian Influenza. Collaborated in developing a 10GB data mart containing more than 1,800 variables and conducted performance analysis using GAN and LIME models.

- 2024 Park, Y., Song, J., Yang, S., & Thor, P. Global trends of violence: How democracy and capitalism are relevant to justifiability of inward and outward violence. Poster presentation, Society for Social Work and Research, Washington, D.C., USA.
- 2022 Choi, S., Song, J., Kwon, D., & Kim, B. Does a decrease in the regional population affect an individual's perspective on multicultural and immigration policies? The 12th Asian Conference in Regional Science, Ulsan, South Korea.
- 2021 Song, J., & Gouda, M. An empirical investigation of the determinants of Koreans' attitudes towards immigrants. Joint Convention of the Korean International Studies Association and Asian Political and International Studies Association, Seoul, South Korea.
- 2021 Song, J. & Paik, S. (2021). The Political Mobilization and Koreans' perceptions on 2018 Yemeni Refugee Crisis: Focusing on the Public Petition to the Blue House. Institute of Middle East (IMES), Hankuk University of Foreign Studies, Seoul, South Korea.

AWARDS, GRANTS & HONORS

- Faculty Tutor Award: Faculty of Humanities, Arts and Social Sciences, UQ ($2,000 prize).
- Three Minute Thesis (3MT) Competition: Second Place, UQ.
- Annual National Thesis Contest: Korean National Diplomatic Academy, Ministry of Foreign Affairs, South Korea ($1,000 prize).
- High GPA Academic Scholarship: Granted by the Dean of GSIAS, HUFS, for four consecutive semesters (total $6,000 grant).
- Departmental Research Fellowship: Department of Middle East and African Studies, HUFS ($1,500 grant).

PROFESSIONAL SERVICE & VOLUNTEERING

Jun 2026 Academic reviewer: Journal of Immigrant and Minority Health

Dec 2025 Academic reviewer: Humanities and Social Sciences Communications

Jul 2025 Academic reviewer: BMC Public Health

Aug 2023 – Volunteering: St Vincent de Paul Society QLD's Volunteer Refugee Tutoring and Community Support Program Present

RESEARCH & METHODOLOGICAL SKILLS

- Quantitative Research Methods: Dimension reduction and latent structure techniques (PCA and FA); univariate and multivariate analysis of variance (ANOVA and MANOVA); regression models (multiple linear regression and survey-weighted regression); panel data models (pooled, fixed-effects, random-effects, and correlated random-effects models); multilevel models (models for hierarchical data and multilevel growth models); structural equation modelling; limited dependent variable models (binary logistic regression, probit regression, ordinal logistic regression, multinomial logistic regression, and complementary log-log regression); data visualisation; machine learning for prediction and text analysis; and causal inference methods (difference-in-differences, regression discontinuity designs, propensity score methods, and directed acyclic graphs).

- Research Design & Qualitative Methods: survey design, semi-structured interviews, mixed-methods research, systematic reviews, and cross-national and longitudinal study design.
